

Coming together in the exploration and celebration of being a woman.

Sacred feminine practice, circle sharing, expressive art, meditation, gentle movement and self nourishment.

An opportunity to fill up and dive into your own creative depths before meeting the demands of the festive season. Bringing women together to experience the beauty, magic and healing that happens when women gather with intent.

No art experience necessary, creative focus is on process, flow and sharing rather than outcome.

Everyone is creative, all women are welcome
